

BIOGRAPHY

Lesley Michaels is a keynote speaker and transformational coach who applies simple brain-science to reset habitual behavior patterns and establish the mindset of unwavering self-trust. She also leads women to build strategic alliance networks to elevate their effectiveness and strengthen their voices as leaders in today's business arena.

More than ever before life in the time of COVID-19 requires consistent and never-ending innovation, the agility to pivot with ease and evergreen resilience to create sustainable success. Lesley helps the individual, organization and leadership to not just navigate, but employ change as a strategy for creating new opportunities to achieve maximum performance in business and life.

Lesley Michaels ran up the ranks of corporate oil before women were common in that industry. Later pivoting into coaching she became a highly sought-after public speaker on the topic of habitual human behavior. Lesley has trained and led programs around the globe in the areas of mindset-reset for effective communication, resilience, leadership, transformation, and relationships. Her powerful and practical talks offer a unique bridge between self-development and professional excellence. Each presentation is crafted to inspire, empower, and guide people to achieve greater impact through heightened awareness, authenticity, transparency and audacious action.

Lesley shares skills, tools, strategies and practices, based in brain-science that extend value beyond the event-setting to achieve sustainable results.

Reinvention, resilient leadership, and lasting personal, professional and business growth are the cornerstones of what Lesley brings to every speaking and coaching engagement.

Most recently, Lesley has employed all her passions and well-tuned skills toward development of a new company, Never Too Late Media. This umbrella brand houses her 'Women We Should Know' podcast, her book 'A Circle of Women' being released early 2021 and her event organization International Strategic Alliance of Women.

Coaching and advocating for those with unacknowledged or under-valued voices is central to Lesley's life and work.

Often referred to as 'the coach's coach' Lesley Michaels is admired for her inspiring impact on creative thinkers, social innovators, transformational coaches and heart-centered leaders worldwide.
